

PAINTED PLACES

© C. S. Craig

Come, let us follow a dream
Let us chase the lure of bygone ages
Let us climb the spiral staircase
To the land of magical wonder
Come, let us soar in the wind
We can find the legends of courage
Across the timeless span
And relive the days of yesteryear
Come, come, let us go to painted places
Come, let us follow a dream
Let us fly away on snow white steeds
Let us pass through the golden mist
To the land of make believe
Come, let us smell the beauty of scented flowers
We can follow rainbows to the great unknown
Across the eternal sky
And relive the tales of imagery
Come, oh come, let us go to painted places
Come, let us follow a dream
Let us go to the land of fountains
Let us climb the icy citadels
To the land of glowing colors
Come, let us search for beautiful maidens
We can seek men of great renown
Across the great divide
And relive the days of adventure and fame
Come, take my hand, and let us go to painted places
