

SOMEONE ONCE SAID

© C. S. Craig

Someone once said, "Life's the pits and then you die"
They seem not to care or to learn the reason why.
God's Word tells the reason for sin, aging and sorrow;
But, why read it now when you can read it tomorrow.

Someone once said, "I don't believe the Bible is God's Word;"
"It wasn't written by God but, by fanatical old men, I've heard."
Yes, the Bible was written by men, inspired by God they achieved;
Exactly what God intended, 'cause inspired means "God-breathed".

Someone once said, "I want nothing to do with religion's doors;"
Religion has caused so much suffering and death in killing wars.
More than all the sickness and disease that ever affected mankind;
Since the fall in the Garden through all the centuries of time.

Someone once said, "Church's are full of self-righteous hypocrites;
Who come to gossip and meddle, in clicks for mutual benefits.
Comparing their strength's to the weaknesses of others;
They stab you in the back these 'so called' sisters and brothers."

Someone once said, "The clergy hammers on sin and condemnation;"
They should be teaching forgiveness through Christ for salvation.
If Christ died for our sins, then why is sin still made the issue;
Why do Churches make it sound like God is out to get you.

Someone once said, "Churches won't let you drink or dance;
So, I don't go to Church 'cause I like to and I can't."
The Bible says be not drunk, be not a gluten;
It doesn't say you can't have fun and do nothing.

Someone once said, "I'm ready for God if He's ready for me;"
This was pride and vanity – he didn't know Christ, you see.
He went to Church his whole life and was sure God would be pleased;

But, he never accepted Christ, now he's lost for eternity.

Someone once said, "Adam's sin passed to all men;"
Then God gave man the chance to do it all over again.
The first man - Adam, died when he ate of the forbidden tree
The second man – Christ, died on that tree and said eat freely.

Someone once said, "If I were Adam, I would not have disobeyed;
Then, we wouldn't be in this predicament that Adam made."
God said trust His Son so you can be saved – have you obeyed;
If not, then, you've made the same decision Adam made.

Someone once said, "You don't have to believe in Christ;
'Cause there are heathens who've never heard of the God of life;"
Not true! All through the ages heathens have heard and refused,
Christ as their Savior and they are not excused.

Someone once said, "I'm a good person and I believe in God;
He helps those who help themselves and I've done a pretty good job."
You man believe in God but, you're believing more in self,
You have excluded Christ and your Bible that sits on the shelf.

Someone once said, "I didn't ask to be born in this worldly mess;
God doesn't blame me nor anyone for sin or worldliness."
Then you have made God in your own image and let this be known;
If you don't receive Christ as your Savior, you are on your own.

Someone once said, "What about babies who die before or at birth;
Or, little children who don't understand, are they to be cursed?"
Babies and children who do not understand;
Go immediately to heaven in the palm of God's hand.

Someone once said, "If God gave His Son a living sacrifice;
Then why does man so arrogantly think, he can save his own life.
If man can work for salvation, then why did Christ endure the pain;
Why did He suffer beatings, and misery, the nails, and the shame?"

Someone once said, and wisely so, "Jesus is man's only hope;

Not the Church, not religion, not works, not even the Pope."
Someone once said, "Jesus died so our sins could be forgiven;
He is the God of justice and love – our only ticket to heaven."
